Additional Information for Endurance Time trial

Considering some of the comments exchanged on various Media platforms, It is appropriate to add a little extra information on the Endurance competition, additional to that published by the LCI.

It is not a “flat out race”...even though we suggest “removal of kick starts / side panels etc”. The endurance is based upon Time Trials, in which the objective is to try & create 2 lap times by each team member that are as near to exact as each other. These laps do not have to be at the quickest speeds, and having seen the course at Adria, Moderation is suggested for some of the curves!!

Encouragement & Guidance from the Team, to slow or speed up, to support each pilot will be suggested, as he/she will have no exact idea how each lap is comparing with previous ones!!

Each team can choose to use one or all team Lambrettas for the Endurance. This will be your choice. (only one team member on the course at any one time) Each Lambretta will be fitted with a “Transponder” to record exact lap times
